Taster Webinar: pharmacy and pharmacology

'In this session we (UEA) will be joined by 2 universities who will begin by exploring the fascinating academic content of their degree programmes in the form of a mini lecture based on one of their undergraduate modules. Each university will then offer an insight into the teaching and learning experience related to these modules and to their Pharmacy/ Pharmacology degrees more generally.

Through the discussion, the universities are encouraged to provide an insight into the teaching and learning experience of this topic at university, and compare and contrast how other subject areas across the Economics spectrum might be treated. Students will gain an insight into how these subjects continue beyond A-levels, T-levels, IB, BTEC and equivalent qualifications.'
